Introduction

JATAN started promoting organic farming since 1985. Area under organic farming in Gujarat is increasing at slow but steady pace. There are, now many organizations promoting organic farming other than JATAN. The concept and practices of organic farming have become more acceptable during the period of these three decades.

Now, not only farmers and voluntary organizations, even mainstream agricultural universities and Govt. Departments have started promoting organic farming actively. Some of the agricultural universities run Organic Farming Cell to impart training on regular basis. Govt. of Gujarat has spared Rs. 10 crore for promoting organic farming in FY 2015-16. At least 8 states of India have declared their policy to promote organic farming. Recently, Govt. of Gujarat has also declared its Organic Farming Promotion Policy in April, 2015.

JATAN publishes directory of farmers practicing organic farming, resource agencies / persons promoting organic farming and sellers selling organic farm produce at an interval of 5-7 years. We have updated the information once again on the occasion of 5th Biennial National Convention of Organic Farming held in Chandigarh in Feb, 2015.

We have listed 251 farmers who have adopted organic farming voluntarily. Out of them about 150 practice organic farming in 100% area under their management. Area covered under that list is estimated about 4000 Acres. Here is a list of 34 sellers with their address details.

Let me describe our limitation also. We have realized that many farmers' organizations, religious and cultural organization, private companies, NGOs, Govt. schemes, unknown to us also promote organic farming. JATAN estimates that total number of practicing organic farmers in Gujarat will be about a thousand covering 20 thousand acres of land. In absence of any authenticated system to compile and verify such information in the state, JATAN has tried to put its effort with full honesty and integrity. Considering nature of the information, there are all chances that the information provided here is either changed or incomplete. We apologize for this limitation. At the some time we urge you to help us by providing such information you know. Your suggestions to improve the quality of information are always welcome.

Thanks.

A MISSION FOR ORGANIC FARMING

Introduction

JATAN started promoting organic farming since 1985. Area under organic farming in Gujarat is increasing at slow but steady pace. There are, now many organizations promoting organic farming other than JATAN. The concept and practices of organic farming have become more acceptable during the period of these three decades.

Now, not only farmers and voluntary organizations, even mainstream agricultural universities and Govt. Departments have started promoting organic farming actively. Some of the agricultural universities run Organic Farming Cell to impart training on regular basis. Govt. of Gujarat has spared Rs. 10 crore for promoting organic farming in FY 2015-16. At least 8 states of India have declared their policy to promote organic farming. Recently, Govt. of Gujarat has also declared its Organic Farming Promotion Policy in April, 2015.

JATAN publishes directory of farmers practicing organic farming, resource agencies / persons promoting organic farming and sellers selling organic farm produce at an interval of 5-7 years. We have updated the information once again on the occasion of 5th Biennial National Convention of Organic Farming held in Chandigarh in Feb, 2015.

We have listed 251 farmers who have adopted organic farming voluntarily. Out of them about 150 practice organic farming in 100% area under their management. Area covered under that list is estimated about 4000 Acres. Here is a list of 46 resource persons & 6 Govt.- Agri. University Departments promoting organic farming with their address details.

Let me describe our limitation also. We have realized that many farmers' organizations, religious and cultural organization, private companies, NGOs, Govt. schemes, unknown to us also promote organic farming. JATAN estimates that total number of practicing organic farmers in Gujarat will be about a thousand covering 20 thousand acres of land. In absence of any authenticated system to compile and verify such information in the state, JATAN has tried to put its effort with full honesty and integrity. Considering nature of the information, there are all chances that the information provided here is either changed or incomplete. We apologize for this limitation. At the some time we urge you to help us by providing such information you know. Your suggestions to improve the quality of information are always welcome.

Thanks.
