FOREWORD

Organic agriculture is more or less traditional agriculture. Definition proposed for adoption by FAO/WHO Codex Alimentarius Commission is, "Organic agriculture is a holistic production management system which promotes and enhances agro-ecosystem health, including biodiversity, biological cycles and soil biological activity. It emphasizes the use of management practices in preference to the use of off-farm inputs. This is accomplished by using, where possible, agronomic, biological, and mechanical methods, as opposed to using synthetic materials, to fulfill any specific function within the system." Fair calculations are showing that Kerala alone has are around 10,000 organic farmers. Hence, Thanal planned to document the details of individuals and the institutions working for promotion of organic farming. The directory includes information of organic farmers, organic retail outlets and resource agencies such as NGO’s and Society’s etc, in Kerala. The data collection for the directory has been conducted in 2015. This is not an exhaustive collection, and many names and institutions may have been left out. This only a first list, and we conceive this is as a continuing documentation process.

Thanal has obtained help from different institutions as well as persons who are working on organic farming and its promotion in Kerala for this directory. At this point we acknowledge them through extending our deep gratitude.

1. Kerala Jaivakarshaka Samithi: Kerala Jaiva Karshaka Samithi, the oldest organic farmers movement in Kerala, is a group of organic farmers organized for creating public awareness on the benefits of traditional food and lifestyle. In the last two decades they have been expanding their network with a presence in all districts of the State. They organize district level and state level conventions every year.
2. State Horticulture Mission: State Horticulture Mission is a registered society set up under the Travancore Cochin Literary, Scientific & Charitable Societies Registration Act, 1955 to implement the National Horticulture Mission program, a centrally sponsored scheme, introduced during the financial year 2005-2006. This scheme envisages an end to end development of the horticulture sector covering production, post harvest management, processing and marketing. The main objectives is to provide holistic growth of the horticulture sector through an area based regionally differentiated strategies which include research, technology promotion, extension, post harvest management, processing and marketing.

3. HOPS: High Range Organic Producers Society Kerala (HOPS) is a Charitable Society registered in 2006 under Travancore Cochin Charitable Societies Act 1955 works for organic farming collectively based in Adimaly, Kerala. HOPS formed in the backdrop of the drastic decline in productivity and health problems caused by indiscriminate use of chemical fertilizers and pesticides in the high ranges of Idukki district.

4. KADS: Kerala Agricultural Development Society (KADS) voluntary organization of farmers registered in 2001 under the Charitable Society Act, 1955 of Kerala. The mission of KADS is securing fair price to farm produces by avoiding middlemen, promotion of quality organic produce production, and assistance in sustainable management of natural resources through awareness campaign, promotion and practicing of eco-friendly agriculture. KADS facilitates marketing through 'farmer's open market' and organic agriculture through assisting in organic certification in collaboration with INDOCERT, which is a certification agency.

5. WOACS: Wayanad Organic Agricultural Consortium Society (WOACS) is a collection of number of societies following organic farming in Wayanad District. It has a governing body/working committee comprising nine members including four representatives from Agriculture Department Maintaining quality in produce and uniformity in farming. WOACS focuses on ensuring reasonable price to farm produce by avoiding middlemen and providing relevant information and latest knowledge to the farmers. Continuous facilitations and trainings are proposed for capacity building through periodical training to elected people’s representatives, farmers, farm women, farm children and farm laborers.

6. OFAI: The Organic Farming Association of India (OFAI) was primarily set up to promote organic farming, lobby with government agencies and departments to pay more attention to sustainable agriculture, and assist farmers using chemicals and pesticides to convert successfully to organic farming methods. OFAI was formally registered under the Societies Registration Act only in 2006, after the rules of the association were discussed and vetted by several meetings of organic farmers and NGOs involved in the promotion of organic farming. While the association has formulated programmes to assist organic farmers with organic certification and also participates fully in the Participatory Guarantee System (PGS) of organic certification designed mostly for small and marginal farmers, it has steadfastly resisted becoming an agency for the procurement and distribution of organic produce. OFAI today remains the only membership-based national association of organic farmers, organic farming promoters and green stores. By charter, the President of the association will always be an organic farmer. The association will also strive to ensure gender equality in all its activities. It campaigns actively against the introduction of genetically modified organisms and seeds in India’s agriculture.

7. The following individuals in the personal and official capacity supported the compilation - Dr. K Prathapan – Mission Director, State Horticulture Mission; Mr. R Suresh – Assistant Director of Agriculture, State Horticulture Mission; Mr. R Ajay Chandra – Project Officer (South), State Horticulture Mission; Mr. Ilias K P – Secretary, Kerala State Jaiva Karshaka Samithi; Ms. Anuradha Sarang – OFAI, Kerala

Organic farming, endosulfan, poison free food, indigenous cows, all these words are now household words in Kerala and gets discussed every day. Not only homes even school going children, doctors, engineers, sanyasis, film stars, food experts, all have started to talk about pesticides and organic/natural farming in Kerala. Many non-resident Keralites have joined organic farming/kitchen garden face book alliances and share their experiences in growing a poison free food gardens. This is really encouraging to see all these developments in a state which witnessed one of the worst pesticide disasters and a state which has become a food importer.

The idea of organic farming/more correctly natural farming began in Kerala in the early eighties. Soocheemukhi, an environmental education magazine published by SEEK (Society for Environmental Education in Kerala, Payyannur, Kannur) carried an article on this topic. It was translation of few chapters from 'One straw revolution' by Masanobu Fukuoka. This was after the Bhopal tragedy and there was a debate in the state about use of pesticides in agriculture.

Many individuals and groups took up this idea and started working from late '80s and now we have thousands of farmers doing organic/natural/zero budget farming in Kerala. The state also has a vibrant organic farming policy – strategy and action plan since 2008. Many schools have taken up organic farming. Agriculture Minister of Kerala declared that the government will implement organic farming in all panchayaths by 2016 and the state will be completely in to safe farming by then.

In the last 20 years people of Kerala has turned the discourse from Green Revolution and productivity to ecological agriculture and safe and nutritious food for all.
